

Language Teacher Register Fact Sheet

The Language Teacher Register assists schools to find qualified language teachers to fill vacant language teaching positions in government schools.

How does the Language Teacher Register operate?

The Language Teacher Register is open to graduating, graduate and currently employed language teachers who are seeking a language teaching position in a government primary or secondary school. Eligible language teachers can register using the SurveyMonkey online form.

Victorian government school principals may contact the Languages Unit at the Department of Education and Training (DET) if they are seeking to employ a language teacher.

When a relevant teaching position becomes available, a registrant will be sent, via email, the details of this position. The onus is then on the registrant to contact the school and formally apply for the position.

Who is eligible to be listed on the Language Teacher Register?

To be listed, registrants must:

- be an Australian or New Zealand citizen or permanent resident of Australia;
- be currently studying or have graduated from an approved teaching course with a learning area (methodology/specialty) in Languages; or
- be a fully qualified language teacher who is registered with the Victorian Institute of Teaching (VIT)

Can I be listed on the Language Teacher Register if I have not yet completed my studies?

Only registrants in the final semester of study to become a qualified language teacher can be listed ahead of the forthcoming school year.

Language teachers must provide their VIT registration number or provide information about the status of their application for VIT registration.

Please note: to be employed as a teacher in a Victorian school, teachers must be registered or have provisional VIT registration.

Will I be able to specify any preferences for a potential teaching position?

Yes – language teachers are able to list their preferred region(s) and teaching area (primary, secondary or both).

I have studied and am proficient in more than one language. Am I able to apply under more than one language?

Yes – you can list any and all languages that you are/will be qualified to teach. Language teachers may be contacted regarding positions for one or more of the languages they have listed.

How will I be notified if a suitable position is available?

The Language Teacher Register does not guarantee a registrant's success in finding a position. It is intended as a recruitment tool to identify linkages between language teaching vacancies in Victorian government schools and qualified language teachers who are seeking employment.

Details of any vacant position that respond to a language teacher's qualifications will be sent via email.

How long will my details be kept on the Language Teacher Register?

Information will only be deleted from the Language Teacher Register if specifically requested by the registrant. If a registrant is successful in acquiring a position, they should send an email to language.teacher.register@edumail.vic.gov.au requesting to be removed from the register. Previous eligible language teachers are welcome to re-register at any time.
